THE QUEST FOR THE REAL RICHES

Material riches are not an evil in themselves. They become a blessing if we keep our hearts detached from them and use them generously to help those in need. Then we are also spiritually rich, and our generosity becomes liberating for us and uplifting for its beneficiaries. But material wealth becomes a curse when it destroys the sensitivity of those who allow themselves to be dominated by the craving for it. Woe to us if we allow material riches to possess our hearts! We would soon find ourselves in a state of spiritual bankruptcy. Let this Eucharistic celebration remind us of the superiority of the spiritual values and give us the grace to use our material resources according to God's plan.
